

Crucial Conversations in AI Series

AI technology is a current reality in education, providing unique challenges & opportunities. As educators we need to be informed, reflective, & able to adjust instruction, assessment, and learning experiences in our digital environment. We design customized learning series to synthesize information from the field, experience AI educational technology applications & discuss the implications & applications for our practice.

Sample Series Trajectory:

Part I - AI in Education

Part II - ChatGPT & Other Generative AI in Schools

Part III - Future Implications and Actions
